Thank you for reaching out. The Secretary is very much interested in participating in this interesting project.

Just so we can prepare – might we take a peek at the questions you think you will ask ahead of time? I am sure the Secretary would like to make his answers as poignant and profound as possible.

I have cc'd Morgan Bedan with our office to set up the particulars of time and place.

Thank you again.

Dear Secretary Ross,

It's been nearly a century since James Truslow Adams famously said the American dream is "of a land in which life should be better and richer and fuller for everyone." In a recent opinion article, Mike Milken wrote that "the American dream traditionally meant anyone could get ahead based on ability and hard work."

Progress toward the goal of opportunities for everyone based on innate skills and perseverance has been uneven; yet it remains a shining goal, not only for those of us in the United States, but also for everyone in less-developed and less-free nations who aspire to a better life. That's why the Milken Institute has launched a special project centered on the concept of the American dream, and why Mike has asked me to invite your participation.

At next week's Milken Institute Global Conference, we'll record the thoughts of a select group of distinguished individuals on the subject of the American dream today. It will take only 15 minutes of your time. We've converted a conference room at the Beverly Hilton into a small production studio where we'll ask you some open-ended questions about what the American dream means to you and how your career achievements relate to it. The setting will be relaxed and no special preparation is required.

Global Conference attendees represent a broad range of human endeavor in such diverse fields as medical research, finance, education, public health, entrepreneurship, philanthropy and public service. We expect the recorded thoughts will reflect different aspects of this intellectual diversity. The interviews will be edited and used in a film about the American dream as well as becoming part of a permanent Milken Institute repository.

Please let me know if you can participate and which day/time works best for you. We'll be recording all day from Sunday, April 29th through Wednesday, May 2nd. Again, we only need 15 minutes of your time.

You can reply directly to this email or call me at (b)(6).

Mike and I look forward to seeing you next week.

Kindly,

Elizabeth

My apologies for the out of the blue email; I work in former PM, David Cameron's, office and have obtained your contact details from Viscount William Astor.

I am writing as Mr Cameron is due to be in Washington DC this Thursday 19 April for various events relating to the LSE-Oxford Commission on State Fragility, Growth and Development, which he co-chairs - and in particular, the Commission's report, which launches on Thursday.

I know Mr Cameron would welcome the opportunity to meet with Secretary Ross while he is in Washington. Mr Cameron has availability from 15:00-18:00 EDT on 19 April, and would be very happy to fit in with Secretary Ross' schedule.

Many thanks in advance for considering this request and we look forward to hearing from you as soon as convenient.

Kind regards,

Hey Commerce Secretary Ross,

I thought I would introduce you to David Smith, Executive Chairman of Sinclair.

You might have read that the FCC queered his deal because they are scapegoating him after the net neutrality fight.

I'm acting here not because Mr. Smith and I have any business ties -- we don't -- but because I'm concerned that if he's not able to merge with Tribune we are going to have serious problems getting our message out for future elections.

With the tech companies pushing a solidly left-wing view and Fox dependent on the heart beat of Rupert Murdoch things look pretty dire if Sinclair isn't permitted to grow large enough to compete.

I think President Trump should know about the stakes here.

Maybe you gentlemen can meet up? I'll be in DC Monday-Tuesday if you want me to tag along.

Dear Mr. Secretary,

I am sure you don't remember me, but we briefly met at the McCain Institute Dinner in NYC a few weeks back. (I interviewed Secretary Kissinger and Gov Kasich before the dinner audience.). Having been an anchor at all 3 cable news networks, I am now the anchor at Voice of America TV's Plugged in — a show that focuses on American policy and that broadcasts world wide and is translated into many languages (eg it is translated into Mandarin and airs in Asia; translated into Farsi and airs in Iran etc.)

I would very much like to interview you about the President's expected new tariffs on steel. I know that you have spoken to some news organizations already but VOA TV reaches beyond the US border and to a much bigger worldwide audience than the US cable audience. This worldwide reach is important because the world wants to know and understand American policy as it directly impacts them. I am likewise confident that the Trump Administration wants to reach the worldwide audience about important policy changes. The other significant different of VOA TV is that the interviews are longer - not just three minutes - so that policies can be explained.

Since I launched the interview, I have interviewed Vice President Pence, General McMaster, Ambassador Nikki Haley and many US Senators from both sides of the aisle. Each has thought my interview were in-depth and fair.

If you would agree to an interview, of course I would make it convenient to you. I would go to your location if you did not want to come to VOA - TV's studio (Capitol Hill.) Since the show airs live on Wednesdays, if it were not convenient to you to do the show live, I could tape an interview anytime on Tuesday.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best, Greta Van Susteren

Hi Wendy,

Hope you're well. I assist Dean Snyder at the School of Management, and would be happy to work with you to find a time for Secretary Ross and Dean Snyder to meet.

Dean Snyder would currently be available from 2:00 PM – 6:00 PM on Tuesday, April 10th, or any time before 11:00 AM on Wednesday, April 11th.

All the best,

Secretary and Mrs. Ross,

I hope this email finds you well. You may have received the attached invitation in the mail directly for Anne Summers but my father, Donald Miller, suggested I also send you a copy via email. Ann and Peter Summers are graciously hosting an event at their home on March 22nd for our friend Clay Tippins, Republican candidate for Governor of Georgia. If you are in town, I hope you will consider joining us.

Clay is an exceptional individual and I think you will enjoy talking with him. After 15 years in the private sector, most recently running a half billion dollar P&L for global consulting giant Capgemini, Clay has decided to apply his business turnaround skills to help the people of Georgia by running for Governor. As an All-American swimmer at Stanford and retired Navy SEAL, Clay is no stranger to hard work and overcoming obstacles.

Clay believes that every State needs smaller and smarter government. This means tackling a variety of tough issues such as reducing waste and abuse of entitlement programs and implementing new programs around education, modern transportation, crime and health care. Clay's proven transformative leadership skills and background as a corporate consultant, Navy SEAL and successful technology business executive, will enable him to deliver new policy methods and better results that are replicable across State lines.

I know Clay would deeply appreciate the opportunity to gain your insight on a variety of issues. Please let me know if you have any questions about Clay, the event or if I can help facilitate an introduction.

Warmest Regards,
Prescott Miller

For more information on Clay please see his website, <https://claytippins.com/>.

White House spokeswoman Sarah Sanders repeatedly denied rumors that Cohn was exiting -- until his resignation was announced.

Hi Secretary Ross,

Are you free for a meeting this month? I will be in DC October 8-11. Have something of international import to discuss.

Thanks,
Charles

Dear Wilbur,

How are you? I hope that you are well. The Berggruen Institute's 21st Century Council will be hosting its biennial Understanding China conference in Beijing this Fall. We would be honored if you could join us. Please block your calendar for October 30 – November 9. Our 2-day conference and meeting with President Xi Jinping will take place during that period. We will let you know when we have an exact date.

In addition to the conference, we are polling our delegation about the possibility of participating in a special tour to the Guangdong - Hong Kong region. The tour will take place for 2 days before the conference and include sightseeing, meetings with officials and industry leaders, and tasting local delicacies. The tour will be entirely arranged and hosted by our partners CIIDS.

They will only do it if they can get a critical mass of our members to join the tour. Please let us know if this is something you are interested in doing.

Very best,
Nicolas

Hope this finds you well. I was introduced to you albeit very briefly by Wilbur when Woody hosted him at Winfield House, glad to be reconnected.

I sent the note below to hopefully gets some advice and guidance to how best manage the issues raised in the memo attached.

I am also at the Milken Conference and wondered if I could possibly get a few minutes to meet up with Wilbur prior to his departure.

Many thanks

Good morning Secretary Ross,

RealClearPolitics invites you to join us as the keynote speaker in an event called Turning Global Gains Into Local Successes in the Digital Economy. The event will take place on July 26 at the National Union Building in downtown Washington, D.C. In this program, we plan to discuss the digital economy and the effects of the internet on economic mobility for Americans in rural areas and small cities. I have attached a formal invitation from our executive editor Carl Cannon.

Please reach out at any time with questions or for more information about the event. If there is someone else I can contact to process this request, please let me know. We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us.

Thank you,
Shelby Lopez

The Honorable Wilbur L. Ross 39th Secretary of Commerce U.S. Department of Commerce 1401
Constitution Ave NW Washington DC 20230
Via Email

Dear Secretary Ross:

Asia Society, together with His Majesty the King of the Belgians, is pleased to invite you to the 2018 Laeken Dialogue, a high-level trilateral convening on the strategic relationship between Asia, Europe, and the United States that will take place in Brussels, Belgium from May 2-3, 2018. This convening builds on John D. Rockefeller 3rd's Williamsburg Conferences, to fill a vital gap in bringing together leaders from these critical regions to address shared challenges and find constructive solutions. Participants have included Shaukat Aziz, Dai Bingguo, Dr. Henry Kissinger, Ana Palacio, Anders Fogh Rasmussen, Steve Schwarzman, and Herman van Rompuy, among others. This dialogue will also include around 10 selected emerging leaders, including from the 2018 class of Schwarzman Scholars, as full participants.

The 2018 Laeken Dialogue brings together leaders from Asia, Europe and North America to consider the central question: how do we ensure an effective, rules-based global order for the future? This includes the core challenges of maintaining global strategic stability and security, economic growth, and sustainable prosperity, given the current crises and emerging challenges. The dialogue will tackle challenges such as rising forces of nationalism, global migration flows, and the manipulation of news, cyber security, and social media. Their Majesties the King and the Queen of the Belgians will host the opening dinner at the Royal Palace and the full day of interactive dialogue at Egmont Palace.

A formal invitation from His Majesty the King and a detailed program agenda, including your specific requested role in the dialogue, will be shared with you upon your acceptance. To confirm your intended attendance, or should you have any questions, please call us at (b)(6) or email brussels@asiasociety.org by Friday, March 23, 2018. Given the select, high-level nature of the dialogue, please note that this invitation is non-transferable.

We hope you can join us at this year's Laeken Dialogue— your voice is a vital one in this conversation.

Sincerely,

Josette Sheeran

Hi Hilary—hope you are both well. I am following up on an invitation we sent to Wilbur's office for you both to attend this year's White House Correspondents Association dinner on April 28th. I understand that the President has decided not to come this year but is encouraging members of his administration to attend.

I hope you can join us.

Wilbur,

We invite you to our upcoming 95th YALE CEO forum --- and 15th YALE CEO Caucus in Washington DC. To conserve on CEO travel to DC, the Caucus dovetails with the opening reception of the Business Roundtable later that day.

As the original programs in this CEO space, our events are unique in that they are: completely non-commercial, consistently non-partisan, strictly off-the-record, but very practical and always lively! Also, there are no fees or philanthropic pitches.

YALE Washington CEO Caucus

Monday, September 24, 2018 --- 101 Constitution NW — 8:30a - 12:00p

Who Will Pass their Midterms? Business Opportunities and Election Outcomes

Recent Yale Washington CEO Caucuses have featured intimate collegial discussions free of any formal speeches with such opinion leaders as: Vice President Joe Biden; Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell; Senator Minority Leader Chuck Schumer; Senator John McCain; Senator Dan McCarthy; Senator Mike Bennet; Senator Christopher Coons; Senator Joe Manchin; Senator Christopher Murphy; Senator Bill Nelson; Secretary of Commerce Wilbur Ross; Secretary of Transportation Elaine Chao; former Secretary of Defense Ash Carter; former Council of Economic Advisors Chairman Jason Furman; former Deputy Secretary of State and Director of National Intelligence John Negroponte; former Under Secretary of State Bob Hormats; US Court of Appeals Senior Judge Douglas Ginsburg; Governor Ed Rendell; Grover Norquist of Americans for Tax Reform, and Ralph Reed of the Christian Coalition. Past corporate participants: Lloyd Blankfein of Goldman Sachs; David Rubenstein of The Carlyle Group; Mike Burke of AECOM; Dave Cote of Honeywell; Jamie Dimon of JP Morgan Chase; Michael Dell of Dell; Randall Stephenson of ATT; Lowell McAdam of Verizon; Hank Greenberg of CV Starr; Steve Schwarzman of Blackstone; Marillyn Hewson of Lockheed Martin; Steve Kandarian of MetLife; Andrew Liveris of Dow; Jim McNerney of Boeing; Denise Morrison of Campbell's; Brian Moynihan of Bank of America; Indra Nooyi of PepsiCo; David Abney of UPS; Ed Rust of State Farm; Brian Roberts of Comcast; Mike Ullman of JC Penney; George Barrett of Cardinal Health; Steve Case of Revolution; Mike Lamach of Ingersoll Rand; Adam Aron of AMC Entertainment; Steve Miller formerly of AIG; Mike Petters of Huntington Ingalls; Nick Pinchuk of Snap-On; Tom Quinlan of LSC Communications; and Mark Weinberger of EY.

CNBC, Edelman, EY, Korn Ferry, PepsiCo, and UPS, make this no-fee program possible!

Please join us --- RSVP (yes or no) by clicking the appropriate link in the attached formal invitation.

Thanks for the heads up. Maybe we can discuss Monday and Tuesday night dinners when you have a moment tomorrow. Not sure if he set on this one though there may be 1-2 we would be interested in him stopping by prior to him sitting at one in particular...

Dear Secretary Ross,

Mary Callahan Erdoes, Chief Executive Officer of J.P. Morgan Asset & Wealth Management is visiting LA on the occasion of The Milken Global Conference where she will be a speaker. Zoe and I are organizing a cocktail reception in her honor at our home and would love you to join us.

Details are provided in the invitation below.

I hope you can make it.

Best,

Olivier
