Dear Mr. Ross,

I'm writing to you from Newshour, BBC World Service radio in London. We're the station's flagship news programme with millions of listeners around the world each day, including the US.

We were wondering if you had a few minutes to spare this afternoon to talk to us about the deal the Trump administration has agreed with ZTE? We'd be happy to speak over the phone, and it wouldn't take more than five minutes or so.

Please let me know if you'd be available to speak to us. I do of course understand if not.

Many Thanks,

In any event, you guys have done a great job and Sec Ross is really excited about the event. He was talking about it on every non-related phone call.

I now have to be in FL for meetings Tues-Thurs, so I headed straight here from CA. I'll be working and on my phone all day Monday. Perhaps we can line up a conference call with everyone to discuss the event. We need to rope in Guido for much of the logistics (breakfast set up, coffee in library, etc.)

Mr. Johnson –

Out of an abundance of caution the Secretary will have to decline this meeting request to ensure that it does not appear that he is using his official position to engage in partisan activities.

Thank you in advance for your understanding.

Hey Commerce Secretary Ross,

I thought I would introduce you to David Smith, Executive Chairman of Sinclair.

You might have read that the FCC queered his deal because they are scapegoating him after the net neutrality fight.

I'm acting here not because Mr. Smith and I have any business ties -- we don't -- but because I'm concerned that if he's not able to merge with Tribune we are going to have serious problems getting our message out for future elections.

With the tech companies pushing a solidly left-wing view and Fox dependent on the heart beat of Rupert Murdoch things look pretty dire if Sinclair isn't permitted to grow large enough to compete.

I think President Trump should know about the stakes here.

Maybe you gentlemen can meet up? I'll be in DC Monday-Tuesday if you want me to tag along.

Per my conversation with Hilary and previously with you, Wilbur, I am writing in an official capacity to say that Alice would very much like to do an internship this summer with Wilbur's office for any amount of time, even one week as I truly appreciate how busy he is and continues to be. Wanting to only attend Georgetown as her number one early action and decision school, her goal is to do what she can before she applies this fall. She leaves school around June 2nd or so and could easily extend her stay to work then or really just about anytime that would suit you, Wilbur. Obviously Alice knows she will be blessed to work for anyone doing anything in your office of secretary of commerce. She understands that any job in the department is highly coveted. Please let me know how I can be of service to help answer questions and facilitate this highly prized opportunity for Alice.

Thank you, her Mother,
Talbott Maxey

Hi James,

That sounds good. Thanks for reaching out, and sorry it took me a few hours to get back to you. It has been a busy day. Nice to meet you, Rebecca.

The reason I asked in such general terms is because there are a lot of assets, and my guess is that the explanation is related for all of them. But I outlined the specifics below, and I hope that's helpful. Forgive me if there are simple explanations for any of these. I just want to make sure I understand it all.

After Secretary Ross promised to divest from a handful of assets if he were confirmed, he then bought more of some of those assets between the time he was nominated and confirmed. For example, he purchased $100K-$250K of Wex on 1/23/17. I was just wondering what the thinking was on those sorts of transactions.

There are a few assets that Secretary Ross promised to divest within 90 days of his confirmation, which would be May 28, 2017, but then he divested late. I was wondering why that happened.

1. Air Lease Corporation: Divested 6/5/2017
2. BankUnited: Divested 5/31/2017
3. Ocwen Financial Corporation: Divested 5/31/2017 and 9/11/2017

For a few of the assets he promised to sell off within 90 days of his confirmation, Secretary Ross never filed transaction reports, suggesting he never divested. I'm wondering what went on there.

1. Invesco Core Plus Fixed Income
2. SSgA U.S. Bond Index Non-Lending Series Fund Class C
3. SSgA Inflation Protected Bond Index Fund
4. Bank of Cyprus
5. Fireeye Inc Com

There were a bunch of assets that he promised to divest within 180 days, for which he never filed transaction reports, again suggesting he did not divest. I'm wondering what happened there.

There were a couple of assets, including Diamond S. Shipping and Navigator, that Secretary Ross told reporters he had divested but then never filed a transaction report. In the case of Navigator, he filed one transaction report, but I believe he held more of the company through WL Ross funds. I'm wondering whether he divested those assets, and if so, why he did not file transaction reports.

There are two assets that Secretary Ross said he sold but did not disclose owning on his initial financial disclosure report. I'm wondering why those were not previously disclosed. And are there any other assets that Secretary Ross owns that he did not disclose?

1. Greenbrier companies (3/31/17 and 6/20/17)
2. Bank of America Corpsub Note 8% (5/16/17)

Thanks again for your help. Please let me know if you need anything else. I'm happy to talk this over on the phone too.

Best,
Dan

Dear Secretary Ross,

I hope you are doing well. I wanted to reach out because I had a few questions about your divestment process. I see a number of assets from which you promised to divest, but I can't find periodic transaction reports confirming that those divestments were completed. There are a couple of assets that you separately told reporters you had sold off, which also do not have corresponding periodic transaction reports.

I noticed some assets that you disclosed selling in periodic transaction reports were not previously listed on your financial disclosure report. I was wondering why those ones had not been included on the initial filing. Please let me know if you have a moment to help me understand what happened.

Thanks,
Dan

Hi James,

That sounds good. Thanks for reaching out, and sorry it took me a few hours to get back to you. It has been a busy day. Nice to meet you, Rebecca.

The reason I asked in such general terms is because there are a lot of assets, and my guess is that the explanation is related for all of them. But I outlined the specifics below, and I hope that's helpful. Forgive me if there are simple explanations for any of these. I just want to make sure I understand it all.

After Secretary Ross promised to divest from a handful of assets if he were confirmed, he then bought more of some of those assets between the time he was nominated and confirmed. For example, he purchased $100K-$250K of Wex on 1/23/17. I was just wondering what the thinking was on those sorts of transactions.

There are a few assets that Secretary Ross promised to divest within 90 days of his confirmation, which would be May 28, 2017, but then he divested late. I was wondering why that happened.

1. Air Lease Corporation: Divested 6/5/2017
2. BankUnited: Divested 5/31/2017

3. Ocwen Financial Corporation: Divested 5/31/2017 and 9/11/2017

For a few of the assets he promised to sell off within 90 days of his confirmation, Secretary Ross never filed transaction reports, suggesting he never divested. I'm wondering what went on there.

1. Invesco Core Plus Fixed Income
2. SSgA U.S. Bond Index Non-Lending Series Fund Class C
3. SSgA Inflation Protected Bond Index Fund
4. Bank of Cyprus
5. Fireeye Inc Com

There were a bunch of assets that he promised to divest within 180 days, for which he never filed transaction reports, again suggesting he did not divest. I'm wondering what happened there.

1. WLR Recovery Associates IV LLC
2. WLR IV Loans AIV Feeder, (Cayman) L.P.

Statement from Commerce:

Secretary Ross has filed all required disclosures in accordance with the law and in consultation with both legal counsel and ethics officials at the Department of Commerce and office of Government Ethics. As we have said before, any misunderstanding from your previous conversation with Secretary Ross is unfortunate.

Hi James,

I never received a statement from you yesterday. If you want to send something, please let me know as soon as possible. We have been told that Secretary Ross did not tell the truth about his net worth for years, and the latest example seems to be our conversation a few weeks ago. If you want to pass along any sort of statement, please send that as soon as you can. It will be impossible to make additional changes later in the day.

Thanks,

Hi James,

I just wanted to follow up from our conversation. We work to have all stories completely finished one day in advance. In this case, that was yesterday. It gets increasingly difficult to add comments as we get closer to Monday. If you plan on sending something, or if Secretary Ross would like to speak over the phone, please let me know as soon as possible. The printing presses start running on Monday night.

Thanks,
Dan

Hi Secretary Ross,

I am working on another story, and I was hoping that you might have some time to speak with me. I put a list of questions below. If you would like to talk or send responses, I'll need to hear back by Friday. Thanks so much.

Best,
Dan

-When you were nearing typical retirement age, you broke out on your own from Rothschild and started WL Ross. What gave you the courage to do that, particularly at that age? What motivated you?

-Some people have criticized you for letting Trump off the hook by keeping him in charge of the Taj Mahal back in the early '90s. Do you think that criticism is fair, and why or why not?

-I'm estimating that you made about $260 million personally in WLR Recovery I and WLR Recovery II, driven by the steel deals. Does that sound about right to you? If not, can you take me through the math behind a more accurate figure?

-I was told that you were never as rich as you had told Forbes over the years. I was also told that the reason your financial disclosure report listed so few assets compared to what you had previously told us was because you never had billions in the first place. Is that correct?

-And if so, why did you tell Forbes that you were worth so much more?

-I was told that early in your career, you worked all the time, but that around 2004-06, that started to change, and you spent an increasing amount of time on art and travel. Is that correct? And what precipitated that change? Did the sale of your firm have anything to do with it? How about your marriage?

-Do you stand by your earlier statements to me:

- That you transferred assets into trusts between the time of the election and the nomination?
- That there are more than $2 billion in trusts for your family members?
- That those $2 billion were not included on your financial disclosure report?
- That the transfer was the reason why there was a discrepancy between what you had previously told Forbes and what the disclosure lists?

-The statement later issued by the Department of Commerce seemed to say exactly the opposite of what you told me, especially the line that read: "Contrary to the report in Forbes, there was no major asset transfer to a trust in the period between the election and Secretary Ross's confirmation." Can you explain that discrepancy to me?

-Do you stand by your statements to Forbes in previous years that you owned assets worth billions of dollars?

-And if so, can you please explain where that money came from?

-I was told that you tried to raise a WLR Recovery Fund VI but failed. Is that correct? And why were you not able to raise the fund?

-Did weak performances in funds WLR Recovery funds III through V help motivate you to leave the private equity world to join the cabinet?

-Several people have reported that you took certain policy stances as a businessman, on foreign trade for example, then took opposing stances more recently. I just wanted to include your comments on that.

-I found lawsuits from three former executives—Peter Lusk, David Storper and Joe Mullen—alleging that you and your firm cheated them out of money. I wanted to make sure to include your response to the allegation in the lawsuits.

-I was told that you settled your lawsuit with Peter Lusk for about $10 million. Is that right? And if not, what is the correct figure?

-In the letter that the senators sent to the Office of Government Ethics last week, they said you had failed to disclose 19 lawsuits against you or your businesses. Is that correct? And if so, why did that happen?

- Why did you not disclose the lawsuit allegedly including claims of money laundering?
- Why did you not disclose the lawsuit about a company where you served on the board, that had to pay a $2.1 billion settlement?
- Why did you not disclose the 2015 lawsuit that David Storper filed against you?

-It looks like in 2012, you raised a $640 million WLR Recovery Fund V, but then told a couple of news outlets that you had actually raised $2.2 billion. Why did that happen?

-I was told that the $2.2 billion figure included co-investments and managed accounts. Is that correct?

-Do you think your comments to those news outlets were misleading? Why or why not?

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Office of Public Affairs, 202-482-4883

Joint Press Statement from Commissioner Věra Jourová and Secretary of Commerce Wilbur Ross on the Second Annual EU-U.S. Privacy Shield Review

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM – Today, U.S. Secretary of Commerce Wilbur Ross and Commissioner Věra Jourová made the following statement regarding the second annual U.S.-E.U. Privacy Shield review:

"Senior officials from the United States Government, the European Commission, and European Data Protection Authorities are meeting in Brussels this week to conduct the second annual review of the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield framework. The two days of detailed discussions are addressing all aspects of the functioning of the Privacy Shield. The review benefited greatly from industry and civil society input."

"Since the inception of the Privacy Shield program in 2016, nearly 4,000 companies have made legally enforceable commitments to comply with the Privacy Shield framework. The significant growth of the program last year highlights Privacy Shield's vital importance to transatlantic data protection and commerce."

"The U.S. and EU took note that since the last annual review, the President nominated, and the Senate confirmed, three new members to the independent Privacy and Civil Liberties Oversight Board (PCLOB) to restore a chair and a quorum. The PCLOB also declassified its report on a presidential directive that extended certain signals intelligence privacy protections to foreign citizens."

"Review participants are discussing the functioning of the Privacy Shield Ombudsperson Mechanism, including President Trump's recent decision to name a senior, politically appointed State Department official as Ombudsperson. Nonetheless, both sides recognize the need for prompt progress on" nominating a permanent Under Secretary. This process is well underway and the U.S. will be in close contact with the EU on this important matter.

"In addition, in the wake of recent privacy incidents involving the personal data of Europeans and Americans, the U.S. and EU reaffirm the need for strong privacy enforcement to protect our citizens and ensure trust in the digital economy. Among other things, the Commerce Department will revoke the certification of companies that do not comply with Privacy Shield's vigorous data protection requirements.

"U.S. and EU officials will continue to work closely together to ensure the framework functions as intended, including on commercial and national-security related matters. Before the end of the year, the Commission will publish a report containing its findings on the functioning of the Privacy Shield."

Background

The Commissioner for Justice, Consumers and Gender Equality Věra Jourová, launched with the US Secretary of Commerce Wilbur Ross the discussions to review the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield on 18 October. Operational since 1 August 2016, this framework protects personal data transferred from the EU to the U.S. for commercial purposes. It brings also legal clarity for businesses relying on the transmission of personal data across the Atlantic.

Hi Chelsey,

Happy to help with this - please find the answers below:

1. There's about 40-45 guests
2. It's a mix of representatives, mainly CEOs from the business and investment community with some US government officials, one foreign government official, leaders/experts from academia, NGOs and think tanks.
3. No, generally speaking, it's an invitation only dinner and the invitations were non-transferable. There's only a couple people attending with a spouse.

Let me know if you need anything else!

Best,

Jenny

Dear Wilbur,

Hoping all is well with you. I know you are busy, so will keep my note short. Based on recent press accounts, I understand you will be in Buenos Aires for the G-20 meeting on November 30th and December 1st, was hoping you would be willing to take a 15 minute meeting with the global CEO of Codere while you are there.

As you may already know, Codere is a Spain based but multi-national gaming company majority owned by U.S. investment funds (following completion of a debt for equity exchange in April 2016). Our Argentine business is (or rather was) the most significant contributor of EBITDA and cash flow to our group and is under significant pressure due to both recent material tax increases on our sector and a near-term expectation of further tax increases.

When you can, please let me know if you are available for the meeting. And, of course, best of luck with on-going trade negotiations.

Thanks Wilbur. Our CEO, Vicente Di Loreto, could be in Washington any day starting from this upcoming Monday, November 26th, subject to your availability and preference as to day, time and location. If you don't mind, Vicente may be joined by one or two Codere board members, which I would confirm with you prior to the meeting.

Thanks again and please let me know what works best for you from a scheduling standpoint.

Best regards,

Dear Wilbur,

Hoping all is well with you. I know you are busy, so will keep my note short. Based on recent press accounts, I understand you will be in Buenos Aires for the G-20 meeting on November 30th and December 1st; was hoping you would be willing to take a 15 minute meeting with the global CEO of Codere while you are there.

As you may already know, Codere is a Spain based but multi-national gaming company majority owned by U.S. investment funds (following completion of a debt for equity exchange in April 2016). Our Argentine business is (or rather was) the most significant contributor of EBITDA and cash flow to our group and is under significant pressure due to both recent material tax increases on our sector and a near-term expectation of further tax increases.

When you can, please let me know if you are available for the meeting. And, of course, best of luck with on-going trade negotiations.

Best regards,

Dear Wilbur,

Great to see Hilary and you last evening and attached below is the e-mail from Ken Hubbard that I received asking if you would be a speaker at their Real Estate Forum Group on the weekend of November 30th – December 2nd in Palm Beach. As you can see, it is a very prominent group and they have been meeting together over many years. Ken indicates their schedule is flexible to accommodate your appearing on either Friday afternoon or Saturday.

Is there an individual in your Washington office Ken can talk to directly to arrange the timing and confirm your appearance? Ken is getting a copy of this e-mail and his cell phone number is (b)(6). If you have any questions may I suggest you talk directly with Ken. I believe you will thoroughly enjoy talking with this group.

Muffy and I look forward to being with you in Washington on December 11th - 12th.

Fondest regards,
Don

Dear Wilbur,

How are you? I hope that you are well. The Berggruen Institute's 21st Century Council will be hosting its biennial Understanding China conference in Beijing this Fall. We would be honored if you could join us. Please block your calendar for October 30 – November 9. Our 2-day conference and meeting with President Xi Jinping will take place during that period. We will let you know when we have an exact date.

In addition to the conference, we are polling our delegation about the possibility of participating in a special tour to the Guangdong - Hong Kong region. The tour will take place for 2 days before the conference and include sightseeing, meetings with officials and industry leaders, and tasting local delicacies. The tour will be entirely arranged and hosted by our partners CIIDS.

They will only do it if they can get a critical mass of our members to join the tour. Please let us know if this is something you are interested in doing.

Very best,

Dear Secretary Ross and Messrs. Comstock and Ashoo:

This is a short note to let you know that we at the Coalition for a Prosperous America are supportive of the efforts of Southwire to include multi stranded aluminum wire transmission cables in the 232 tariff list. We appreciate your work in fixing this oversight which will otherwise allow significant imports that will endanger the aluminum wire industry and Century Aluminum which enjoys a very large sales relationship with Southwire.

As always, CPA is working very hard to support your, and President Trump's, aggressive agenda to fix US trade policy.

Good morning Secretary Ross,

RealClearPolitics invites you to join us as the keynote speaker in an event called Turning Global Gains Into Local Successes in the Digital Economy. The event will take place on July 26 at the National Union Building in downtown Washington, D.C. In this program, we plan to discuss the digital economy and the effects of the internet on economic mobility for Americans in rural areas and small cities. I have attached a formal invitation from our executive editor Carl Cannon.

Please reach out at any time with questions or for more information about the event. If there is someone else I can contact to process this request, please let me know. We sincerely hope that you will be able to join us.

Thank you,

Subject: Special Invitation - Laeken Dialogue 2018

The Honorable Wilbur L. Ross 39th Secretary of Commerce U.S. Department of Commerce 1401
Constitution Ave NW Washington DC 20230
Via Email

Dear Secretary Ross:

Asia Society, together with His Majesty the King of the Belgians, is pleased to invite you to the 2018 Laeken Dialogue, a high-level trilateral convening on the strategic relationship between Asia, Europe, and the United States that will take place in Brussels, Belgium from May 2-3, 2018. This convening builds on John D. Rockefeller 3rd's Williamsburg Conferences, to fill a vital gap in bringing together leaders from these critical regions to address shared challenges and find constructive solutions. Participants have included Shaukat Aziz, Dai Bingguo, Dr. Henry Kissinger, Ana Palacio, Anders Fogh Rasmussen, Steve Schwarzman, and Herman van Rompuy, among others. This dialogue will also include around 10 selected emerging leaders, including from the 2018 class of Schwarzman Scholars, as full participants.

The 2018 Laeken Dialogue brings together leaders from Asia, Europe and North America to consider the central question: how do we ensure an effective, rules-based global order for the future? This includes the core challenges of maintaining global strategic stability and security, economic growth, and sustainable prosperity, given the current crises and emerging challenges. The dialogue will tackle challenges such as rising forces of nationalism, global migration flows, and the manipulation of news, cyber security, and social media. Their Majesties the King and the Queen of the Belgians will host the opening dinner at the Royal Palace and the full day of interactive dialogue at Egmont Palace.

A formal invitation from His Majesty the King and a detailed program agenda, including your specific requested role in the dialogue, will be shared with you upon your acceptance. To confirm your intended attendance, or should you have any questions, please call us at +1- (b)(6) or email brussels@asiasociety.org by Friday, March 23, 2018. Given the select, high-level nature of the dialogue, please note that this invitation is non-transferable.

We hope you can join us at this year's Laeken Dialogue— your voice is a vital one in this conversation.

Sincerely,

Josette Sheeran
President and CEO

Wilbur Ross Announces First Results From 20,000 Tariff-Exclusion Requests

Wall Street Journal

Jacob M. Schlesinger

June 20, 2018 -- 9:54 AM

<https://www.wsj.com/articles/wilbur-ross-announces-first-results-from-20-000-tariff-exclusion-requests-1529502874>

The Trump administration has completed its review of a handful of the thousands of requests filed seeking exemptions from its steel and aluminum tariffs, granting exclusions to 42 types of imports, and denying 56 such requests.

Commerce Secretary Wilbur Ross announced the decisions on Wednesday morning in testimony delivered before the Senate Finance Committee, which was holding a hearing on the impact of the tariffs.

The decisions cover only a small portion of the requests that have been submitted to Commerce. Mr. Ross said in his testimony that the department had received more than 20,000 requests for exclusions for steel and aluminum.

Mr. Ross suggested that a much larger number of exclusions would be approved shortly. He said in his remarks that Commerce would be accelerating the approval process for exclusions by granting all requests that were properly submitted and that drew no objections during the comment period.

He said that Commerce had received more than 4,000 objections to the requests.

Mr. Ross didn't elaborate on how quickly the expedited approval process would be completed. He also didn't name the products that won tariff exclusions.

Thanks for the heads up. Maybe we can discuss Monday and Tuesday night dinners when you have a moment tomorrow. Not sure if he set on this one though there may be 1-2 we would be interested in him stopping by prior to him sitting at one in particular...
